lighter days darker nights The goldcrest (Regulus regulus) is a very small passerine bird in the kinglet family. Its colourful golden crest feathers gives rise to its English and scientific names, and possibly to it being called the "king of the birds" in European folklore. The scientific name, R. regulus, means king or knight. Several subspecies are recognised across the very large distribution range that includes much ...

lighter days darker nights Maple syrup is a syrup usually made from the xylem sap of sugar maple, red maple, or black maple trees, although it can also be made from other maple species. In cold climates, these trees store starch in their trunks and roots before winter; the starch is then converted to sugar that rises in the sap in late winter and early spring. Maple trees are tapped by drilling holes into their trunks ...

lighter days darker nights Superb article, Vivien. You put a good lot of effort into this, and it's a thorough round-up of what to remember. There's also the illusion how dark colours surrounding light ones will make the lighter area appear smaller than it is if it were the opposite (dark surrounded by light).

lighter days darker nights watercolor brands. This page presents my observations on the brand standards and brand styles of commercial watercolor paints. My approach was to sample widely from "artists' quality" paints " focusing on the watercolor brands most commonly offered by retailers, recommended in art instruction books, used by professional artists, or claiming an unusual brand style. I sampled mostly single ...

lighter days darker nights Opening Thoughts. When I read Pastor Edward Englebrecht's article on mobbing in the Lutheran Forum, I immediately recognized that the phenomena that he described in his article is a very real form of abuse and that it, sadly, has been and is currently being employed by far too many in the LCMS. The reason that I know that this is true is because I have personally been the target of mobbing ...
